My career

I discovered most of the coding concepts as a self-taught coder, with some practice, I acquired a base to begin to write my own lines of codes.

A part of my practice was on CodeSchool and CodeCademy. OpenClassRoom gonna be an other plateform where I'm gonna be able to learn more about coding.

I did a training at PopSchool to be in a great environment to learn and study even further in the web devlopment.
